Pacific Requires A Tender

BEFORE SHE WILL BE ABLE TO COME TO HONOLULU—REPORT-ED TO BE LEAKING BADLY.

The dredger Pacific is reported to be leaking quite badly astern. She struck the bottom near the Manchuria yesterday morning and has to return to Honolulu. Calling Calendar Given Up

JUDGE ROBINSON ADOPTS A NEW SYSTEM OF SETTING CASES FOR TRIAL.

Judge Robinson has abandoned the calling of the calendar plan and instead will set cases on motion. The custom in the past has been to set a day every once in a while for calling all the calendar. All the attorneys interested were gathered into court and as soon as a few cases had been set for several days ahead, attorneys usually proceeded to answer "ready" to their cases as they were called, whether ready or not. The result was a general setting of cases for dates which were not kept, and very soon another calling of the calendar. Much time of both courts and counsel was wasted in this sort of thing, and Judge Robinson, who has the civil calendar this term, has decided to abolish it.

Judge Robinson will set cases on motion of either side, unless the other side successfully opposes such motion, hence cases as set through the term will be definitely in order for trial. The calendar calling is an old system in the courts, but attorneys appear to be generally satisfied with its abandonment.

COMMITTEE PASSES UP PROTESTS

WILL LET THE CONVENTION WRESTLE WITH ALLEGATIONS OF FORCE AND FRAUD.

The three protests which have been made to the Republican county committee on account of alleged irregularities in the voting at the primaries will probably be passed up to the county convention itself. The committee has had enough of protests and some of the members, at least, think the best way out is to let the convention itself decide the disputed questions as to whether the delegates-elect from the precincts in question shall be seated.

On the other hand the protestants declare that under the party rules it is the duty of the committee to take the matters up at once and settle them. If the elections were invalid, they are talking of having another one. They will make a lively fight in the committee meeting this evening, judging by their talk today. L. A. Thurston is to appear as counsel representing the Archer protest. In addition to the Archer and Achil protests reported yesterday, one has been filed in the seventh of the Fifth, by seventeen voters, against the admission of Henry Vida and all of the other delegates. The protest represents that the rules were violated in that ballots were placed in the hands of persons other than the judges after the polls were opened and in the opinion of the protestants these ballots were marked and delivered to the persons casting votes. The names of the candidates were not arranged in accordance with the rules and in support of this a sample is filed with the protest.

FIVE CHANGES IN IMMIGRATION LAW

gave in agricultural pursuits after reaching these islands. They will be issued only to those of good character. In other words the authorities in Japan will have and control the power to allow immigrants to these islands and they will not allow those to come who are not good agricultural laborers or who have but a vague intention of laboring upon the plantations here.

"Third. To all persons who have relatives here or have been here passports will be issued. Or if a man should want to come here and engage in business and the authorities know of no obstacle in his path he shall be granted a passport. These passports may be granted without any reference to the immigration agents.

"Fourth. Certificates of deposit at present amounting to $15 shall no longer be required by the Japanese government.

"Fifth. The responsibilities of the Immigration agents are lessened by the reduction of the fee of 20 yen which is now remitted to 10 yen.

"The principal effect intended by these reforms are for the benefit of the laborers. The reductions in fees and the abolition of the certificates in the banks mean much to these class who immigrate.

"The fact that each immigrant must be known to have a real intention to follow agricultural pursuits after landing in Hawaii means much. No one will come here who is not a first class plantation laborer and who has not that intention in view.

"The changes are simple ones but I think that when they get into operation there will no longer be any difficulty or complaint."

S W Taxite

A great mixture, did you ever try it? Not very good to drink, but for the purpose of getting off old paint and varnish it is the real thing. It does not injure the hands, or the wood, you are removing paint or varnish from, and is far better and easier than burning off. After you are through with Taxite you will want to cover the bare wood with some good PAINT, VARNISH or STAIN, and we presume you know that SHERWIN-WILLIAMS make the best goods in these lines and that they are carried in stock, and sold by
